This Supervision Training and Professional Development Program is unique as it has two main functions.

Primarily: to provide training for developing supervisors; and Secondly: to provide a rich range of professional development for existing supervisors by attending individual days of interest to gain OPD or CPD points.

Program Aims:

The aim of the program is to develop and enhance supervisory skills within a Person Centred, Reflective framework. Using a person centred and creative approach, this program supports supervisors to develop and enhance skills that will equip them to supervise practitioners across a range of different modalities and presenting issues. The program is strongly influenced by the latest research in neuroscience and underpinned by person centred principles and a compassionate approach.

With a focus on the relationship and each individual's innate healing capacity and growth potential, supervision, like therapy, can be transformational. The inclusion of practical activities from expressive / creative modalities facilitates learning and supports participants in their development as Supervisors.

Your Presenters:

Cheryl Taylor and Jo Ablett have a solid foundation of Supervisory Training and experience gained over more than a decade of practice as Supervisors. For the past five years Cheryl and Jo have provided professional development workshops for Supervisors. Cheryl is currently employed as a lecturer and supervisor at The Cairnmillar Institute and Jo is a Senior Trainer for Expressive Therapies Institute of Australia. Both are registered Supervisors with ACA and PACFA.

Cheryl and Jo are committed to supporting other practitioners in their professional journeys and to provide a safe space for those in supervisory roles, to reflect on and deepen their work.
